Understanding and Accessing the New Zealand eScience Infrastructure

Technical Seminar – 12:30pm-3pm, 12 July 2012 – Hosted by Landcare Research

Learn what high performance computing is, what is available to you and how your work will benefit from it.

This event provides an overview of NeSI's compute resources, how to access them and what to expect when you need help.

Content delivered by staff from The University of Auckland, University of Canterbury and NIWA.
